

THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1889.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

We notice at the grocery of Edwin H. Foster on Dorrance street a fine display of fresh strawberries.

Dr. Samuel W. Gross, the eminent Philadelphia physician and surgeon, died at his home on Walnut street on Tuesday.

Miss Jennie Fox Bowers, formerly of Bristol was married yesterday to Edwin Williams, of Burlington, N. J.

Mrs. Milnor Brown, who has been a resident of Portland, Oregon, for the past four years, is in Bristol visiting her mother and relatives.

The Shakespeare Club meets at the residence of Francis Fenimore on Tuesday evening. A miscellaneous programme will be produced.

Mrs. Nathan McCorkle, who now resides with her son Charles in Newportville, on Saturday last fell down stairs and broke her leg. Mrs. McCorkle is over eighty years of age.

The Girls' Friendly Society of St. Paul's Mission will give their annual concert on the Wednesday after Easter at 7:30 P. M. in their Mission Room at the corner of Mill and Pond streets. Talents and vocal and instrumental solos will form the entertainment of the evening.

Mrs. Wm. C. T. C. will address a public meeting in the Presbyterian church next Friday evening, April 19th. Mrs. Woodbridge is pronounced to be a forcible speaker who will instruct and interest all who are fortunate enough to hear her.

The People's Ideal Pantomime Minstrels and Novelty Company will give their annual entertainment at the Opera House, on Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon. Those who are fond of dancing, singing and the antics of clown and pantomime, will thoroughly enjoy the performance.

The Bristol Improvement Company declared a quarterly dividend of 14 per cent last Thursday. The dividends heretofore have been 14 per cent, but the directors, at the request of the stockholders at the annual meeting held last January, have begun the policy of making the stock 6 per cent one instead of 7 per cent.

Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Eva Augusta Stouts, daughter of J. Stouts, of New York City, to Lorenzo Hall Cone, on Easter Monday, April 22, at New York in the Church of the Transfiguration at noon. The wedding breakfast will be at the Hotel Brunswick. The newly married couple will reside in West Philadelphia.

A commission, consisting of Dr. Walton and Thomas T. Evans, of Tullytown, and B. F. Gilkinson, Esq. of Bristol, to enquire into the insanity of James Stokes, the boy who set fire to his father's barn in Penn's Manor, and then attempted suicide, met on Friday last and found that he was of unsound mind. He will be placed in the Norristown Asylum.

George Saxton, No. 137 Messenger boy of Western Union Telegraph Co., was engaged with a number of other boys that he would walk to Bristol and back from Broad and Chestnut streets this, in one day. He left Phila. at 6:15, and arrived at Bristol at 11:55. He started on his return trip at 12:10, and made the distance of 40 miles in 10 hours and 40 minutes.

The Bristol correspondent of the Standard says that Captain C. M. Schomaker, captain of the 115th vessel "Vandalia," which was stranded off the Samoan Islands last month, was well-known by some of the people of Bristol. His widow was a former Bristolian. She was a Miss Cooper, a granddaughter of William Livingston, and all of her early life was spent in this town. She is now, with her two daughters, a resident of Albany, N. Y.

Ernest Lawrence has been doing considerable in the real estate business lately. He sold Samuel Beck the other day the house on Dorrance street which he recently built, for $3000, one on "the street to John Walters for $1200, one on same street to Patrick Hearn for $1300, one of the new houses now being built on Wood street to the Misses Brodway for $9100 and the other to Dallas Irving at the same price. From Mr. Irving he has taken two lots on Swain street for $500, and has purchased two lots on Pine street from Ellwood Doran for $400.

The new base ball ground was opened on Saturday last with an attendance of 600 persons. While though the day was cool yet the game was good and much enjoyed by the spectators. The opposing club was the Indiana of Philadelphia, and were apparently a strong club, yet the Bristol easily defeated them by the score of 9-1. Over a hundred shares of stock of the Association have been subscribed for and paid to the management. If the attendance averages as many as on Saturday during the season the stockholders will receive a very nice little dividend at the end of the year.

On Wednesday morning of last week the gentlemanly agent of an Insurance against Burglary Company visited Bristol. Among the people to whom he presented the peculiar claims of the company he represented was Mrs. Closson, the hostess of the Closson House. Mrs. Closson was favorably impressed with the idea and made application for a policy. The business having been satisfactorily concluded the attention of the parties was casually directed to a fire proof that was standing in one corner of the room. Something unusual in its appearance near the dial, caused a closer investigation, when it was discovered that the door had been drilled, the bolts sprung back and the contents abstracted. It was a complete surprise. The supposition is that the robbery was committed on the Monday night previous by three men, strangers, who were staying at the hotel. One of them was afterwards arrested in Burlington, N. J., but there was nothing found to connect him with the affair and he was released. Mrs. Closson's loss amounts to about $100, chiefly in rare coins, fractional currency and other articles preserved by her as mementos.

The (Omnia) "Fate."—Mr. E. P. Sullivan, the talented actor, is booked for the Opera House, Thursday evening, 25th inst. Mr. Sullivan comes to us this time supported by the talented young actress Miss Rose Stahl, a daughter of Capt. E. C. Stahl, the well known Trenton Editor, and if she inherits her father's talent to any considerable degree she will prove an artist of no common order. Miss Stahl already gives decided promise of rapid progress in her chosen profession, and is already elicited the favorable criticism of leading New York papers, and is won for herself the warm encomiums of the press in every city where she has played. The play to be produced here is Bartley Campbell's original American comedy-drama "Fate" which is unquestionably one of the best plays of the better class of American productions. It is rich in sentiment and sparkling in humor, its dialogue is chaste and its dramatic situations are strong and effective. Mr. Sullivan and Miss Stahl are supported by a first-class Metropolitan company, under the management of that veteran actor and manager T. C. Howard, and Mr. Sullivan having acquired the sole right to produce "Fate" in its original form, and all who desire to witness a really artistic rendition of a fine play should secure seats on that occasion.

A number of the personal friends and business associates of Joshua Peirce met at his residence last Monday evening to bid him farewell previous to his departure for the far west. Mr. Peirce had for twenty years been prominently identified with the interests of Bristol and had faithfully and zealously labored to advance the prosperity of the place. Through his influence Bristol was transformed from a rural village to a thriving manufacturing town, and his departure cannot but be a source of regret.

During the evening it was suggested that some more lasting expression of their kindly feelings be given him, and on motion of William H. Grunly Charles E. Scheide was chosen chairman, who appointed a committee to prepare a suitable paper. The committee retired and shortly after presented the following which was unanimously adopted and signed by those present:

We, the friends and neighbors of Joshua Peirce, having met socially at his residence on Tuesday evening of April 15th, 1889, prior to his departure for the Pacific coast, where he intends to establish a new home and engage in new enterprises, take this method of expressing our interest in his welfare, and of indicating the feelings of personal friendship we have always entertained towards him.

We cordially desire for him in this new departure both success and happiness, and it is our earnest wish that he may find the amplest reward of energy, and the fullest compensation as a return for that personal element of his character, his wealth, his health as well as happiness, and trust that the movement he is about to make will prove by its good results the wisdom of his determination.

J. K. WILSON, D. A. SHENK, J. H. KESNER, A. W. GILKESON, SAMUEL SWAIN, C. F. LEWIS, B. F. GILKESON, THOMAS B. HARRIS, WILLIAM H. GRIFFIN, W. P. WEAVER, H. F. GILKESON, E. P. SHUBERT, LEONARD L. GRIFFIN, EDWARD SHUBERT, J. H. B. GILKESON, CAROLINE N. BURR, WALTER LAMM, EDWARD M. PIERCE, THOMAS HUGHES, W. C. PIERCE, JOSEPH S. PIERCE, J. S. THOMAS, J. WESLEY WRIGHT, WILLIAM V. LEHR, CURT E. SCHULTZ, JESSE O. THOMAS.

During the course of the evening remarks expressive of the regard in which Mr. Peirce is held, and of regret that he had concluded to make his home elsewhere were made by Messrs W. H. Grunly, Francis Fenimore, Samuel Swain, Walter Laing, John Wilman and A. W. Gilkinson, to which Mr. Peirce feelingly responded.

TULLYTOWN NOTES.

TULLYTOWN, PA., APRIL 17, '89.

Anything but agreeable—the weather. Close at hand—Easter.

The trees and shrubbery have been planted in the new Cemetery and they make a grand improvement.

I am sorry to say that we are lacking in one good thing—Prohibition men.

Quite a number of our boys are in the Louisiana State Lottery this month—Tullytown may make a hit.

Wm. C. Moon and John Carman have been making some improvements by filling up and grading off their yards.

Walter Williams is doing quite a business in the way of installment watch clubs. Walt is a business fellow and bound to get along.

Harvey Morgan, our night haggan and switch tender, has been the victim of the chills last night.

Harry Carman is week operator here now. Mr. A. B. Wayman's former night man is now day man at Morrisville.

How many of you have got planted? Is the question asked of one another by the farmers. The question is about potatoes, and the answer runs from 6 acres to 25.

J. H. Cooper, our freight agent, is doing a rushing business in New York City manner; the shipping is full of loaded cars must all the time.

Some one tried to get into Charles Bennett's pool room last Sunday night by cutting out a pane of glass. They were driven away before getting in.

The Sunday School held in the Tullytown Christian Church with Rev. E. E. Mitchell as pastor and Joseph H. Wilcox as superintendent is a large Sunday School and seems to be increasing in interest and size. It has a new library containing some of the latest Sunday School work by the most prominent authors.

On Tuesday morning Frank Smith fell down the steps leading from John Morgan's pool room. It is a great wonder he was not killed.

PROHIBITION IN IOWA.

The following letter from James Wilson to his sister, Mrs. Jane Guy, relative to the effect of prohibition in Kansas has been handed to the GAZETTE for publication:

PRIMER CITY, IOWA, MAR. 12, '89.

My dear sister—Glad to hear you are once more in the land of the living, and on the question of prohibition in your State and wishes to know from me how it works out here in Iowa. When this question was put here I put it down to an old woman's tale, but I am a success.

We have no policemen out here because we have no whiskey; there is not a saloon running in this or adjoining counties, not a barrel of liquor. Whiskey is a thing of the past in this State, and the old people who were used to it are now dead.

A lady neighbor who has lived here for over five years paid a visit to her friends over in Pennsylvania this winter, she told me she was glad to get back to Iowa on account of the open saloons. Let the prohibitionists take courage and work and pray and they need not fear failure, for I believe God is using the prohibitionists to wipe this great evil from our fair land of America.

Hoping to hear from you soon again, I am, your brother,

JAMES WILSON.

It is predicted that Lehigh county will give from 4000 to 6000 majority against the Prohibition amendment.

There was a riot between the freshman and sophomores of Lafayette college, Easton, one night last week.

—Arson day comes this year on Friday, April 20th. Many schools in the county will observe the day by planting trees.

—Col. Joel B. Ehrhardt, just appointed Collector of the Port of New York, was born at Pottstown, where his father "kept school."

—John J. Blair, the New Jersey railway magnate, who has a fortune of $40,000,000, began life by selling plug tobacco and notions.

—Levi Stauffer, of Goodville, Lancaster county, who is sixty-four years old, has spent fifty-three years in bed, being a helpless paralytic.

—When Pittsburgh was the "Smoky City" pulmonary diseases were much rarer than at present. The use of natural gas is blamed for their increase.

—Great numbers of ducks were seen on Sunday in the Delaware river opposite Brildeford. They appeared to be very tame or tired. They were principally of the broad bill variety.

—The Philadelphia Times very truthfully says: "There is plenty of cold in Bucks county—in the pockets and old stockings of its thrifty citizens, but it is not worth while to get excited over alleged gold mines in that section."

—Congressman Yardley is authority, it is said, for the statement that Skipknapp and Townemere are the only townships in Montgomery county from which he has not received a petition in some way relating to a post office.

—The Pike county superstition that it is unlucky to kill white deer, is discounted by the late Christopher Tallman, who killed thirteen of them during his life, and died lately at the age of eighty-three years without having had extraordinary ill fortune.

—Fegers are taxed $3 a thousand and the law is silent with regard to their size, the manufacturer of the Jumbo cigar seems to have a clear case against the Government, which is trying to make him pay the tax on manufactured tobacco for that special brand.

—The Illinois House of Representatives has passed an act prohibiting the employment of any person except native or naturalized citizens, or those who have declared their intention to become naturalized, on any work which is to be paid for in part or wholly by public taxation.

—The enactment of a bill repealing the Pines law of 1700 makes the owners of cattle responsible for any damage they cause. Landholders are no longer required to guard against trespassing on their premises by other people's stock. This places the responsibility where it should belong—on the owners of the cattle.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has decided to build a connecting loop, which will leave the main line at the meadow spurs, cross the Passaic river, and join the main line again at the Waverly Fair Grounds. The object is to avoid the slowing down of fast trains; which the city ordinances of Newark require while passing through the city.

—Voters who have not paid a State or county tax within two years from the 18th of June, will be deprived of the right of voting at the next election on that day. Tax receipts procured for delinquent taxpayers by the political committees in October, 1887 and 1888, will be good for this special election although those issued in 1887 can not be used in the election of next November.

—J. D. Scott, of New Britain, who published the Atlas of Bucks County in 1870, is about to issue a new edition thereof. There have been many changes since then, and the new edition will be correct up to the time of its issue. It will give the boundary lines and size of all farms, with the name of the owner; all roads, villages, post offices, churches and school houses, with each township on a separate page. It will also give the plots of all boroughs and villages, with all the lot lines and location of buildings; in fact, be a complete atlas and gazetteer of the county.

A CURIOUS CHARACTER.—Oliver Tregu appeared in Newtown a few days ago after an absence of several years from Bucks county. He is 67 years old, a son of the late Philip Tregu. He cut loose from his family and home many years ago, and has traveled through South America, learning the Spanish language, and living for years in Brazil. He has traveled and prospected through the mining regions of Mexico, particularly in the province or territory of Lower California, where he has recently been stated there some extensive discoveries of gold. He says there are plenty of rich mining regions in Mexico, but it is not safe for Americans to go there. He is an intelligent man and well educated, having taught school in seven States of our Union.—Enterprise.

BONDS RECOVERED.—Jacob H. Reiff, a wealthy farmer of Centre County, Montgomery county, who was fleeced out of $10,000 worth of Cincinnati Southern railroad certificates by bunco men, recovered the greater part of the securities last week. After spending $1,000 in vainly attempting to run the swindlers to earth, he gave up the attempt. About two months and a half ago he was surprised to receive a visit from a stranger who represented himself to be a New York detective. He said if Mr. Reiff would agree to take $8,000 and say nothing more about the matter and would not make any effort to arrest the men he would recover it for him. The offer was refused. The stranger left, and after an absence of several weeks returned again accompanied by another stranger, who was also introduced as a detective. They told Reiff that the bunco were in the possession of a New York broker who was afraid to dispose of them for fear he might be arrested for complicity in the affair. Reiff finally accompanied the pair to the office of his attorneys, Rogers & Sons, where a compromise was effected upon the payment of $4,000 by the farmer and a promise of immunity from all criminal prosecution which was agreed to, and now Farmer Reiff has his securities safely stored away in the vault of a Norristown bank.

The rumor of a combination between the sugar trust and Standard Oil trust to control sweetness and light is now authoritatively denied.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette proposes to lead a movement to abolish the United States senate. Mr. Halstead does not intend to be trifled with even by such an august body as the American senate.

ELEANOR KIRK'S GOSSIP.

I am constantly in receipt of letters from young women desiring information on the kind of books which would be best for them to read. I do not like to generalize on this subject, and as I am rarely informed of the ages, tastes or talents of my correspondents, or told what they have read, the obstacles in the way of intelligent answers can be readily comprehended. A prominent member of Sorosis, and a very helpful woman, once said she was willing to do anything for any girl that didn't chew gum. I am willing to do all I can for any girl who knows enough to state what she wants in an intelligent manner, though I cannot fellowship with girls who chew gum, or the girls who wear shoes too small for them, or the girls who compress a twenty-five inch waist into an eighteen inch corset.

Agents of all the European steamship lines report unprecedented travel for the coming summer. Several lines anticipate the necessity of putting on extra steamers. Berths have been engaged several weeks ago on the splendid steamship Nordland of the Red Star Line, sailing July 3d, direct for Antwerp, for a small and select party of ladies who will make the tour described briefly in one of my letters. The party is not yet complete, but prompt action will be necessary to insure a place in what promises to be a most agreeable party, chartered and conducted by a lady last recently returned from a residence of two years and a half abroad, and who is perfectly familiar with the methods of European travel and sightseeing, and with the French language, a knowledge of which is so necessary on the continent. I will mail a programme of this tour to any one wishing it.

"Are gingham to be worn on the street in warm weather?" a lady from Wichita, Kansas, inquires. Yes; they are being made up now in every imaginable design. The material is lovely and exceedingly inexpensive. I inspected some gingham dresses a few days ago which had been bought and made by measure for some ultra-fashionables in the South, which cost $25 each. The goods and the girde cost $5, and the rest of the amount was claimed by the dressmaker. Their Clothing, Hats, Caps, Underwear, Hosiery, Shoes and Neckwear, are all of the latest styles and best makes. They have suits from $5 to $20, honest goods and well made. Hats, from 40 cts. to $1.00. Underwear from $1.00 to $5.00 per suit; and shoes, well made, neat, strong and substantial, at various prices. For reliable goods, bought from standard houses, go to Johnson Brothers. They keep no auction trash upon their premises.

A Complete Establishment.
